

The City of Tigard invites your participation in a photo contest

Tigard... A Place To Call Home

Go ahead, give us your best shot... or shots!

We're looking for photos that represent why Tigard is such a wonderful place to call home. And who better than you — those who live in Tigard — to show us the people, places, and things that make it so great?

Selected photos will be used in the City's Comprehensive Plan, a policy guide for the next 20 years, as well as other upcoming projects. In addition to the top award, credit will be given to photographers when their photos are used, and the top photographs will be put on display at the Tigard Public Library.
